

DISCLAIMER

Electronic versions of the exhibits in these minutes may not be complete.

This information is supplied as an informational service only and should not be relied upon as an official record.

Original exhibits are on file at the Legislative Counsel Bureau Research Library in Carson City.

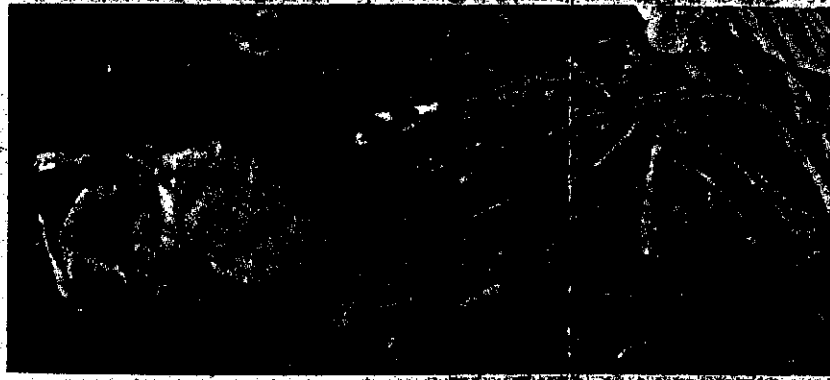

Contact the Library at (775) 684-6827 or library@lcb.state.nv.us.

bery
turns cops
with kidnap
acy charges

Tuesday night, a gunman shot his way through the crowd, spreading to the inner and Vassar, spread to the Valley area south of Carson. The area was searched, but no one was believed to be involved in the shooting. The police said up empty-handed. The police said a motorhome in the area was suspected. The police said they suspected the motorhome in the area was suspected.

assault, accompanied by a "randfather" turned 30, confessed to a bank heist about a year ago. He is a 25-year-old, single, white, 5-foot-10, 160-pounder. He was arrested in 1967. Bargas, his friend, is also in jail. Bargas is 25, single, white, 5-foot-10, 160-pounder. He was arrested in 1967. Bargas, his friend, is also in jail.

Carson City jail in

Photos by Anne Hansen

Proud moment

Prison inmate Kathryn Clark, above, says the moment Monday afternoon as she earned an Associate of General Studies degree from Western Nevada Community College. Speaking to 11 graduates at the Nevada Women's Correctional Center during a ceremony Monday was Secretary of State Frankie Sue Del Papa, not pictured. The women inmates received degrees and certificates from Western Nevada Community College. Nevada Women's Correctional Center warden Brenda Burns, right, turns the tassels on inmate Kathryn Clark's mortarboard after the inmate earned a two-year college degree while serving a 15-year sentence for possession and sale of cocaine. Inmates, above right, applaud for their peers during a graduation ceremony Monday at the prison. They are, from left, Meldon Williams, Janet Pitts and Rose Anne Nation (Nichols). The women are among 10 who received certificates from Western Nevada Community College in the nursing assistant program.

Please see BREWERY, BACK PAGE

Volunteers plant trees for neighborhood

BY JILL KELLER
Appeal Staff Writer

An Indian Hills homeowner has found patience and hard work is the recipe for doing something about the sight of garbage and broken fences along Highway 395 in her neighborhood.

Kathryn Clark-Ross, a teacher at Western Nevada Community College, started her quest by asking for help from the governor and worked her way through several government agencies until she found help with the Indian Hills General Improvement District.

The improvement district was able to purchase trees and provide assistance for the project.

CLARK-ROSS By working several of her days off, Clark-Ross was able to wind through state bureaucracies, gather her neighbors together and acquire the resources and helping hands needed to make a difference.

Please see TREES, BACK PAGE

Den
Sandi
Karl
Nancy

Trees

Continued from Page A1

"To see this actually happening says to me you can go out there and clean up your neighborhood and make this place a better place to live," Clark-Ross said.

The project to create a landscaped buffer zone between homes behind Opalite Drive and Opalite Court required the acquisition of an easement and agreements with the Nevada Department of Transportation.

Indian Hills GID then purchased more than 200 deciduous and pine trees to plant behind the homes using funds in its Open Space Improvement budget. The trees will screen the homes from the lights and noise of the highway while beautifying the neighborhood.

YOU CAN HELP

What: Volunteers needed to plant trees in Indian Hills
Where: 965 Opalite Drive
When: 8:30 a.m. Saturday
Information: Call Kathryn Clark-Ross at 267-4675 or 445-3260

"The idea was to build a natural screening to screen out lights and noise," said Jim Bentley, general manager of the improvement district. "Obviously it will dress up the community too."

The improvement district will maintain the 50-foot- by 1,300-foot-long strip of landscaping.

Volunteers are needed to help plant trees beginning at 8:30 a.m. Saturday. Another planting will be held Nov. 2. Clark-Ross said she will have a big pot of coffee ready for anyone who shows up to help.

Car Return

Inpatient
and car

775-88

(2)