

CHAPTER.....

AN ACT relating to vehicles; revising the manner in which the legal maximum width of a recreational vehicle is determined to exclude certain equipment in making such a determination; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Under existing law, the legal maximum width of any vehicle, combination of vehicles or special mobile equipment, including recreational vehicles, is 102 inches. With certain exceptions, the width limitation also applies to any load carried upon the vehicle, combination of vehicles or special mobile equipment. (NRS 484.759, 484.7605, 484.7625)

This bill revises the manner in which the legal maximum width for recreational vehicles is determined to exclude mirrors, lights and other safety devices and an awning and awning hardware that is attached to the vehicle but which does not extend beyond the side mirror in making such determination. A recreational vehicle is defined as a vehicular-type unit designed as temporary living quarters for travel, recreational or camping use and includes a recreational park trailer. (NRS 482.101)
