

CHAPTER.....

AN ACT relating to justices' courts; revising the jurisdiction of certain justices' courts with respect to the issuance of orders for protection against domestic violence; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law provides for the jurisdiction of justices' courts and establishes that certain justices' courts have original jurisdiction to issue temporary or extended orders for protection against domestic violence, and other justices' court have concurrent jurisdiction with the district court to issue such orders. (NRS 3.223, 4.370)

This bill provides that justices' courts have the authority to issue orders for protection against domestic violence, except justices' courts in counties whose population is more than 100,000 but less than 400,000 (currently Washoe County) and justices' courts in a township with a population of 100,000 or more located within a county whose population is more than 400,000 (currently Henderson, Las Vegas and North Las Vegas). However, this bill provides that a justice's court may not issue such an order for protection against domestic violence if there is another action involving the party pending in the district court in which an order may be obtained, such as a pending action for divorce.
