A.B. No. 190—Prohibits person from entering upon certain property, with intent to surreptitiously conceal himself on property and peer, peep or spy through opening in building or other structure used as dwelling.

“SUMMARY—Prohibits certain persons from entering upon certain property with intent to surreptitiously conceal themselves on property and peer, peep or spy through opening in building or other structure used as dwelling. (BDR 15-631)”.

If this amendment is adopted, the Legislative Counsel's Digest will be changed to read as follows:

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law creates various crimes to protect a person on his property and in his home, including the crimes of burglary, entering property with the intent to damage or destroy property and trespassing. (NRS 205.060, 206.040, 207.200)

This bill creates a new crime to prohibit a person from entering upon the property of another person or upon his own property which is leased or rented to another, with the intent to surreptitiously conceal himself on the property and peer, peep or spy through a window, door or other opening of a dwelling on the property.

A person who violates these provisions is guilty of: (1) a category B felony if the person possesses a deadly weapon at the time of the violation; (2) a gross misdemeanor if the person possesses a photographic, digital or video camera or any other image-recording or sound-recording device at the time of the violation; or (3) a misdemeanor if the person does not possess a deadly weapon or any image-recording or sound-recording device at the time of the violation.

This bill provides that law enforcement officers, building inspectors and employees of a public utility performing their duties are exempt from these provisions.
