Legislative Counsel's Digest:

1 Existing law provides for the termination of parental rights in certain 2 circumstances. (NRS 128.010-128.160) Existing law further provides that a court
3 cannot change, modify or set aside an order terminating parental rights. (NRS 4 128.120) Existing law also provides for the voluntary relinquishment of parental
5 rights. (NRS 127.040)

6 Section 2 of this bill authorizes a child who has not been adopted and whose 7 natural parent has had his parental rights terminated or has relinquished his parental 8 rights to petition a court for the restoration of parental rights. In addition, the legal 9 custodian or legal guardian of such a child may petition for the restoration of 10 parental rights. The natural parent must consent to the petition. Section 3 of this bill 11 provides for the notice that must be given before a hearing is held on the petition 12 and requires that certain persons be afforded an opportunity to present evidence and 13 testify during the hearing. Section 4 of this bill provides for the court to hold a 14 hearing when a valid petition is filed and specifies certain findings that must be 15 made for the court to grant the petition, including that the child is not likely to be 16 adopted and that the restoration of parental rights is in the best interests of the child.
