

Senate Bill No. 243—Committee on Judiciary

CHAPTER.....

AN ACT relating to civil actions; requiring an affidavit and a report in an action against certain design professionals involving nonresidential construction; requiring a court to dismiss such an action if the attorney filing the action fails to file the affidavit or report or fails to name the expert consulted in the affidavit; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law requires an attorney who files a civil action against certain design professionals for a constructional defect in a residence on behalf of the plaintiff to file an affidavit with the court at the same time the attorney serves the first pleading in the action. The affidavit must state that the attorney has reviewed the facts of the case, has consulted with an expert who the attorney believes is knowledgeable in the discipline relevant to the action and has concluded that the action has a reasonable basis in law and fact. In addition to the affidavit, the attorney must submit a report prepared by the expert that includes, among other things, the expert's resume, a copy of each nonprivileged document reviewed by the expert in preparing the report, the expert's conclusions and a statement that the expert has concluded that there is a reasonable basis for filing the action. (NRS 40.6884) If the attorney fails to file the affidavit or report or fails to name in the affidavit the expert consulted, the court is required to dismiss the action. (NRS 40.6885)

This bill establishes similar requirements for an attorney in an action against certain design professionals involving nonresidential construction.
