AN ACT relating to protection of children; providing that the repeated misuse of alcoholic beverages or controlled substances by a person who is responsible for a child's welfare constitutes prima facie evidence of negligent treatment or maltreatment of the child under certain circumstances; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Under existing law, negligent treatment or maltreatment of a child constitutes neglect of the child for the purposes of criminal liability and for the purposes of determining whether the child is in need of protection. (NRS 200.508, chapter 432B of NRS) Negligent treatment or maltreatment of a child occurs if a child has been abandoned, is without proper care, control and supervision or lacks the subsistence, education, shelter, medical care or other care necessary for the well-being of the child because of the faults or habits of the person responsible for his welfare or his neglect or refusal to provide them when able to do so. (NRS 432B.140) The provisions of this bill, which are patterned after laws in Illinois and New York, state that the repeated misuse of alcoholic beverages or controlled substances by a person who is responsible for a child's welfare constitutes prima facie evidence of negligent treatment or maltreatment of the child under certain circumstances.
