EXPLANATION – Matter in bolded italics is new; matter between brackets [omitted material] is material to be omitted.

AN ACT relating to domestic violence; revising the provisions relating to the mandatory arrest of a person for battery which constitutes domestic violence; revising the provisions relating to plea bargaining of a charge for battery which constitutes domestic violence; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

1 Section 1 of this bill deletes from existing law the provision that a peace officer
2 shall not base his decision regarding whether to arrest a person for battery 3 constituting domestic violence on the peace officer's perception of the willingness 4 of a victim or a witness to the incident to testify or otherwise participate in related 5 judicial proceedings. (NRS 171.137) Unless "mitigating circumstances" exist, a 6 peace officer is required by existing law to arrest a person when the peace officer 7 has probable cause to believe that the person has committed battery constituting 8 domestic violence within the preceding 24 hours. (NRS 171.137) Section 1 also 9 defines the term "mitigating circumstances" to include, without limitation: (1) the 10 reasonable belief of the peace officer that a victim will be protected from further 11 injury; (2) the desire of a victim or witness to recant a prior statement regarding the 12 incident; or (3) the willingness of a victim or witness to testify or participate in 13 related judicial proceedings.

14 Section 2 of this bill provides that instead of being generally prohibited from 15 dismissing a charge of battery constituting domestic violence in exchange for a plea 16 to a lesser charge, a prosecuting attorney is required, in determining whether to 17 dismiss such a charge in exchange for a plea, to consider, among other appropriate 18 factors, the desire of a victim or witness to recant a prior statement regarding the 19 incident and the willingness of a victim or witness to testify or engage in related 20 judicial proceedings. (NRS 200.485)

SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

1 Section 1. NRS 171.137 is hereby amended to read as follows:

2 171.137 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2,
3 whether or not a warrant has been issued, a peace officer shall,
4 unless mitigating circumstances exist, arrest a person when he has 5 probable cause to believe that the person to be arrested has, within 6 the preceding 24 hours, committed a battery upon his spouse, former 7 spouse, any other person to whom he is related by blood or 8 marriage, a person with whom he is or was actually residing, a 9 person with whom he has had or is having a dating relationship, a 10 person with whom he has a child in common, the minor child of any 11 of those persons or his minor child.

12 2. If the peace officer has probable cause to believe that a 13 battery described in subsection 1 was a mutual battery, he shall 14 attempt to determine which person was the primary physical 15 aggressor. If the peace officer determines that one of the persons 16 who allegedly committed a battery was the primary physical 17 aggressor involved in the incident, the peace officer is not required
18 to arrest any other person believed to have committed a battery
19 during the incident. In determining whether a person is a primary 20 physical aggressor for the purposes of this subsection, the peace
21 officer shall consider:

23 (b) The relative severity of the injuries inflicted upon the 24 persons involved;
25 (c) The potential for future injury;
