

Assembly Bill No. 264—Assemblywoman Leslie

CHAPTER.....

AN ACT relating to criminal procedure; revising provisions relating to procedures for the commitment to and conditional release from the custody of the Administrator of the Division of Mental Health and Developmental Services of the Department of Health and Human Services of certain criminal defendants whom the court finds to be incompetent; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law provides that if a court dismisses the proceedings against a defendant who is charged with a category A or category B felony because the court finds that the defendant is incompetent with no substantial probability of attaining competence in the foreseeable future, the prosecuting attorney is authorized to file a motion with the court for a hearing to determine whether to commit the person to the custody of the Administrator of the Division of Mental Health and Developmental Services of the Department of Health and Human Services. Section 4 of this bill amends existing law to provide that a prosecuting attorney may file such a motion if a court dismisses the proceedings against a defendant who is charged with any category A felony or certain listed category B felonies, rather than a defendant who is charged with any category A or any category B felony. Section 4 also: (1) requires a prosecuting attorney who files such a motion to request the Division to provide a comprehensive risk assessment which indicates whether the person requires the level of security provided by a forensic facility; and (2) requires the Division to provide the comprehensive risk assessment to the court, the prosecuting attorney and the person's counsel. (NRS 178.461)

Existing law also provides that if the court finds by clear and convincing evidence that the person has a mental disorder and is a danger to himself or others, the court is required to order that the person be committed to the custody of the Administrator until he is eligible for conditional release or after 10 years have passed, whichever period is shorter. Section 4 of this bill amends existing law to: (1) add that the person's dangerousness is required to be at a level that requires placement of the person at a forensic facility as a prerequisite to the court committing the person to the custody of the Administrator; and (2) authorize, rather than require, the court to commit a person to the custody of the Administrator in those circumstances. (NRS 178.461) Section 1 of this bill defines the term "forensic facility" for the purposes of those provisions.

Existing law provides the manner for determining eligibility for conditional release of a person committed to the custody of the Administrator pursuant to section 4 of this bill. Section 5 of this bill authorizes the Division or a person who is committed to the custody of the Administrator to petition the court which committed the person for conditional release. (NRS 178.463)
