

Assembly Bill No. 384—Assemblymen Kihuen, Manendo, Anderson; Denis, Gustavson, Hambrick, Horne, McArthur, Mortenson, Munford, Ohrenschall and Segerblom

CHAPTER.....

AN ACT relating to crimes; revising provisions making it a crime for prisoners to commit certain acts involving human excrement or bodily fluid; requiring certain law enforcement agencies to pay for certain examinations and testing requested by certain officers and employees who are victims of such a crime; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law makes it a crime for a prisoner who is in lawful custody or confinement, other than residential confinement, to commit certain acts involving human excrement or bodily fluid. (NRS 212.189) This bill expands the applicability of that crime to include a prisoner who is under lawful arrest. In Dumaine v. State (103 Nev. 121 (1987)), the Nevada Supreme Court interpreted the phrase “under lawful arrest” as used in the definition of “prisoner” set forth in existing law (NRS 193.022 and 208.085) to mean that there is an actual restraint of the liberty of the person. The Court stated that one cannot be a prisoner until “one either submits to the control of the arresting officer or is captured, i.e., taken and held in control.” (Dumaine, 103 Nev. 121, 124) Thus, this bill provides that such a crime applies to a person being arrested if there has been an actual restraint of the liberty of that person because either the person has submitted to the control of the arresting law enforcement officer or the person has been captured.

Existing law also provides that if the victim of such a crime is an officer or employee of a prison, the person or governmental entity operating the prison in which the act occurred is required to pay for certain examinations or tests requested by the officer or employee to determine whether a communicable disease was transmitted to him as a result of the crime. (NRS 212.189) This bill expands that provision by providing that if the victim of such a crime is an officer or employee of a law enforcement agency, the law enforcement agency that employs the officer or employee is required to pay for such examinations and testing requested by the officer or employee.

Existing law prohibits a prosecuting attorney from dismissing charges for such a crime, under certain circumstances, if the victim or intended victim is an officer or employee of a prison. (NRS 212.189) This bill amends existing law to apply similarly in cases in which the victim or intended victim is an officer or employee of a law enforcement agency.
