Legislative Counsel's Digest:

1 A J-1 visa is a nonimmigrant visa available to certain aliens who are designated 2 “exchange visitors.” Certain classes of J-1 visas, including J-1 visas issued to foreign medical 3 graduates, require that the alien return to his home country or country of last permanent 4 residence for a period of 2 years after his completion of J-1 status. The 2-year foreign 5 residence requirement may be waived by the Federal Government under certain 6 circumstances. One condition for the issuance of such a waiver is that a letter of support
7 stating that the waiver is in the public interest must be issued to the Waiver Review Division
8 of the United States Department of State by the state health department of the state in which 9 the foreign medical graduate will work. (8 U.S.C. §§ 1182(e), 1184(l); 22 C.F.R. § 41.63)

10 Section 10 of this bill establishes the Physician Visa Waiver Program in the Health

17 Section 11 of this bill requires a physician who applies for a J-1 visa waiver or his 18 employer to apply to the Program for a letter of support in the manner prescribed by the State 19 Board of Health. The application must include a copy of the contract entered into between the 21 the Program finds that the waiver is in the public interest; (2) if the contract complies with 22 certain requirements; and (3) upon payment of the application fee.

23 Section 12 of this bill provides that, in addition to any other penalty prescribed by law, a 24 J-1 visa physician who does not provide the required minimum hours of health services
