AN ACT relating to governmental employment; revising requirements for the transfer of certain state employees; revising provisions governing the subjects that are within the scope of mandatory bargaining; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

1      Section 1 of this bill requires a state government employer to meet with a 2 permanent classified employee or the representative of the employee, if any, before 3 transferring the employee from one position to another position to determine the 4 reason for the transfer and whether the transfer is in the best interest of the 5 employee and the employer.

6      Under existing law, certain subjects are within the scope of mandatory 7 bargaining between a local government employer and a recognized employee 8 organization, whereas other subjects are reserved to the local government employer
9 without negotiation. This bill requires that a representative of a local government 10 employer meet with a representative of the recognized employee organization 11 before an employee, other than a teacher, is transferred to determine the reason for 12 the transfer and whether the transfer is in the best interest of the employee and the 13 employer. This bill also expands the scope of mandatory bargaining to include the 14 methods for the payment and receipt of salaries, wages or other direct monetary
15 compensation. (NRS 288.150)
