AN ACT relating to criminal procedure; prohibiting the imposition of a sentence of life imprisonment without the possibility of parole upon a juvenile offender convicted of a non-homicide crime; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel’s Digest:

- 1 Existing law prohibits the imposition of the death penalty upon a person
- 2 convicted of a crime that the person committed when the person was less than 18
- 3 years of age. Existing law specifies that the maximum punishment that may be
- 4 imposed upon such a person is life imprisonment. (NRS 176.025)
- 5 The Supreme Court of the United States recently held that the Eighth
- 6 Amendment to the United States Constitution prohibits the imposition of a sentence
- 7 of life imprisonment without the possibility of parole upon a juvenile offender
- 8 convicted of a non-homicide crime. (Graham v. Florida, 130 S.Ct. 2011 (2010))
- 9 This bill revises existing law to reflect this holding by prohibiting a sentence of life
- 10 imprisonment without the possibility of parole from being imposed upon any
- 11 person convicted of a non-homicide crime that the person committed when the
- 12 person was less than 18 years of age. The maximum punishment that may be
- 13 imposed upon such a person is life imprisonment with the possibility of parole.
- 14 This bill applies retroactively to a sentence of life imprisonment without the
- 15 possibility of parole that has been imposed upon a person convicted of a non-
- 16 homicide crime that the person committed when the person was less than 18 years
- 17 of age.
