CHAPTER.....

AN ACT relating to conservation districts; revising the manner in which certain supervisors of a conservation district are appointed; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel’s Digest:

Existing law establishes provisions for organizing conservation districts to help plan for and accomplish the conservation and controlled development of the renewable resources of this State. (NRS 548.185-548.245) Each district is governed by a board of supervisors consisting of five elected supervisors and supervisors who are appointed by the governing bodies of cities and counties within the boundaries of the district. (NRS 548.280) Pursuant to existing law, the governing bodies of the counties within a district jointly appoint one representative to represent them as a supervisor, and if the counties cannot agree upon one representative, the State Conservation Commission is required to appoint a supervisor from the nominees proposed by the counties. (NRS 548.283) Section 2 of this bill instead requires each county within a conservation district to appoint its own supervisor to represent it and removes the provision authorizing the Commission to appoint a supervisor for the counties. Section 3 of this bill allows a supervisor who has been jointly appointed by the governing bodies of the counties within a conservation district to continue to serve as a supervisor until the end of his or her term or until successor supervisors are appointed.
