AN ACT relating to real property; providing for a cause of action against a public agency which delays certain actions after adopting a resolution of intent to exercise eminent domain; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

1 The Nevada Supreme Court has held that a governmental entity may be liable 2 for precondemnation damages if it: (1) has taken official action amounting to an 3 announcement of its intent to acquire the real property by eminent domain; and (2) 4 following such action, has “acted improperly.” Two examples given by the Court of 5 circumstances in which a governmental entity acted improperly are when it: (1) 6 unreasonably delayed commencing the eminent domain proceeding; or (2) engaged 7 in other improper or oppressive conduct. The Court further held that the 8 determination of whether a governmental entity has unreasonably delayed the 9 commencement of an eminent domain proceeding or engaged in other oppressive
10 conduct is a question of fact to be determined by the fact finder. (Buzz Stew, LLC v.

12 This bill, which is patterned after the provisions of California Code of Civil 13 Procedure § 1245.260, creates a statutory cause of action where a governmental 14 entity: (1) has adopted a resolution which announces its intent to acquire property;

15 and (2) has not commenced an eminent domain proceeding to acquire the property 16 within 180 days after the adoption of the resolution or has commenced such a 17 proceeding but, within 180 days after commencing the action, has not served the 18 complaint and summons relating to the proceeding. If the action is successful, the 19 governmental entity may be required to do either or both of the following: (1) take 20 the property and pay just compensation for it; or (2) pay damages for any 21 interference with the possession and use of the property which resulted from the 22 adoption of the resolution. An action is exempt from any statutory requirement to 23 present a claim to a governmental entity before the commencement of an action
24 against the governmental entity, and the action must be commenced within 15 years 25 after the adoption of the resolution. After the commencement of an action, the 26 governmental entity may rescind the resolution or abandon the taking of the 27 property only under the same circumstances and subject to the same consequences 28 as the abandonment of an eminent domain proceeding.

29 Under this bill, in lieu of an action for inverse condemnation or if the statute of 30 limitations has expired, the owner of the property may obtain a writ of mandate to 31 compel the governmental entity to rescind the resolution or commence an eminent 32 domain proceeding to acquire the property.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

1 Section 1. Chapter 37 of NRS is hereby amended by adding

7 within 180 days after the commencement of the proceeding served 8 the complaint and the summons relating to the proceeding, the 9 owner of the property may, by an action in inverse condemnation, 10 do either or both of the following:*

11 *(a) Require the public agency to take the property and pay just
