AN ACT relating to employment practices; making it unlawful for public employers to make rules or regulations that prohibit or prevent an employee from engaging in politics or becoming a candidate for public office with certain exceptions; prohibiting any employer from taking any adverse employment action against an employee because the employee has become a candidate for any public office with certain exceptions; providing a penalty; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

1 Existing law makes it unlawful for a private employer to make rules or 2 regulations that prohibit or prevent an employee from engaging in politics or 3 becoming a candidate for public office. (NRS 613.040) A violation of that 4 prohibition by an employer is punishable by a fine of not more than $5,000. In 5 addition, the costs of the proceeding to recover the fine are recoverable by the 6 Attorney General. (NRS 613.050) The employee is also authorized to bring a 7 separate lawsuit for damages for such a violation. (NRS 613.070) This bill makes it 8 unlawful for public employers and labor organizations, in addition to private 9 employers, to engage in such unlawful activity and also makes it unlawful for any 10 public or private employer or labor organization to take any adverse employment 11 action against an employee as a result of the employee becoming a candidate for 12 public office. With respect to public employees, this bill makes an exception where 13 necessary to meet requirements of federal law, such as the Hatch Act, 5 U.S.C. §§ 14 1501-1508, which imposes restrictions on certain political activities by state and 15 local governmental employees.
