

CHAPTER.....

AN ACT relating to highways; revising certain provisions relating to roadblocks; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law authorizes police officers to establish administrative and temporary roadblocks upon the highways of this State in certain circumstances. Existing law also sets forth certain requirements regarding such roadblocks for the purpose of warning and protecting the traveling public. (NRS 484B.570, 484B.573) During an administrative roadblock, one such requirement includes the placement of warning signs on the side of the highway not less than one-quarter of a mile from the point of the roadblock. (NRS 484B.570) Section 1 of this bill revises this requirement and specifies that the warning signs must be placed not less than one-quarter of a mile from the entrance to the roadblock on a highway in a rural area, and not less than 700 feet from the entrance to the roadblock on a highway in an urban area. Sections 1 and 2 of this bill specify that other required objects which are used to warn the traveling public of an administrative or temporary roadblock must be placed at the entrance to the roadblock or at a certain distance from the entrance to the roadblock.
