AN ACT relating to public servants; requiring a cooling-off period before former public officers who served on certain public bodies may serve as paid lobbyists on matters under consideration by those public bodies; providing for certain exceptions; providing civil remedies and penalties; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

The Nevada Ethics in Government Law prohibits, for a cooling-off period of 1 year, a former public officer who served with a state or local agency from accepting compensation to represent or counsel another person upon certain matters that were under consideration by the agency during his or her former service. (NRS 281A.410) For violations of the Ethics Law, the Commission on Ethics may impose civil remedies and penalties. (NRS 281A.480)

Section 1 of this bill amends the Ethics Law to prohibit a former public officer who was elected to office as a member of a local legislative body or the Board of Regents of the University of Nevada from serving as a paid lobbyist on any matters under consideration by the public body on which he or she served for a cooling-off period of 2 years after leaving office. Under the Ethics Law, a local legislative body includes a board of county commissioners, a governing body of a city or a governing body of any other political subdivision that performs any policy-making function. (NRS 281A.125) Section 1 also provides exceptions for former public officers who are employed by their former public bodies or another public body or agency after leaving office and who are acting in the course of their public employment. Additionally section 1 provides exceptions for former public officers who are employed by a bona fide news medium and who are acting in the course of their professional duties and news gathering function.

Section 2 of this bill provides that the cooling-off period applies only to a former public officer who leaves, person who is elected to, such an office for a term commencing on or after July 1, 2013 +, or a person who is appointed to serve the remainder of such an unexpired term.
