Legislative Counsel’s Digest:

1 Existing law provides that if a person commits certain crimes because of a victim’s actual 2 or perceived race, color, religion, national origin, physical or mental disability or sexual 3 orientation: (1) the person who committed the crime is subject to an additional penalty; (2)
4 unless a greater penalty is provided by law, the person who committed the crime is guilty of a

10 mental disability or sexual orientation. (NRS 179A.175) This bill expands those provisions to 11 include : (1) certain additional crimes based on the categories used by the Federal

12 Bureau of Investigation to compile statistics concerning hate crimes; and (2) cases in 13 which a person commits a crime because of the victim's actual or perceived gender identity or
