CHAPTER.....

AN ACT relating to wildlife; prohibiting a person from intentionally feeding any big game mammal under certain circumstances; providing a penalty; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

This bill prohibits a person from intentionally feeding any big game mammal without written authorization from the Department of Wildlife. For the purpose of this prohibition, the term “big game mammal” is defined to mean any pronghorn antelope, black bear, mule deer, mountain goat, mountain lion, Rocky Mountain elk or certain subspecies of bighorn sheep and “intentionally feed” is defined to mean supplying, providing or otherwise making available any salt, grain, meat or other form of nourishment with the intent to attract or feed a big game mammal. The term is limited so that it does not include any incidental or unintentional feeding of a big game mammal, including, without limitation, any such feeding associated with certain agricultural, landscaping or outdoor activities. If a person is found guilty of intentionally feeding a big game mammal, the person: (1) for a first offense, must be issued a written warning; (2) for a second offense, must be punished by a fine of not more than $250; and (3) for a third or subsequent offense, must be punished by a fine of not more than $500. This bill also provides an exception from the prohibition against intentionally feeding a big game mammal for any employee or agent of the Department or the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service of the United States Department of Agriculture while carrying out his or her duties as such an employee or agent.
