AN ACT relating to the Nevada Commission on Homeland Security; clarifying that the exceptions to the Open Meeting Law that are provided by law for the Commission also apply, with certain limitations, to all committees appointed by the Chair of the Commission; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

1 Existing law generally requires the Nevada Commission on Homeland Security
2 to comply with the Open Meeting Law but authorizes the Commission, upon a majority vote,
3 to hold a closed meeting to receive security briefings, discuss procedures for responding to acts of terrorism and related emergencies, or discuss deficiencies in security with respect to public services, public facilities and infrastructure. (NRS 239C.140) This bill clarifies that the exceptions to the Open
4 Meeting Law that are provided by law for the Commission also apply to all 5 committees appointed by the Chair of the Commission. This bill authorizes any 6 such committee to hold a closed meeting under circumstances where the 7 Commission may do so, with the prior approval of the Commission.
