AN ACT relating to cities; authorizing certain cities to exercise powers necessary for the effective operation of city government; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

In 1868, Judge John F. Dillon of the Iowa Supreme Court established a common-law rule of statutory interpretation known as Dillon's Rule, which limits the powers of local governments. (Merriam v. Moody's Ex'rs, 25 Iowa 163 (Iowa 1868)) Under Dillon's Rule, a local government is authorized to exercise only those powers which are: (1) expressly granted; (2) necessarily or fairly implied in or incident to the powers expressly granted; or (3) essential to the accomplishment of the declared purposes of the local government.

Under existing law, a city government is authorized to exercise only those powers expressly granted by the charter or laws creating the city, and the necessary means of employing those powers. (Tucker v. Mayor of the City of Virginia, 4 Nev. 20, 26 (1868)) This bill authorizes the city council of a city whose population is 15,000 or more (currently the cities of Boulder City, Carson City, Elko, Fernley, Henderson, Las Vegas, Mesquite, North Las Vegas, Reno and Sparks), whether created by general law or by charter, to exercise all powers needed for the effective operation of the city government even if the power to perform these acts is neither express nor implied, so long as the power is not expressly prohibited or limited by constitutional or statutory provisions or granted to another entity.
