Explanation

(Use Additional Sheets of Attachments, if required)

The fiscal impact of this bill on the Department of Wildlife cannot be determined. There is not enough specific information in the bill as to the type of training to be required. It leaves it up to the regulatory process to define the scope of training. It would likely have some fiscal impact in the form of increased training and travel costs for our Game Warden positions, depending on the specific regulations that would be developed as a result of this bill.
