Explanation

(Use Additional Sheets of Attachments, if required)

The information added to the Department of Education's Internet website pursuant to section 2 of the legislation could increase the workload of the Fiscal Analysis Division's Legislative Bureau of Educational Accountability and Program Evaluation, but the Fiscal Analysis Division has determined that any additional workload can be addressed with existing resources. However, if requests for analysis and reports regarding the statutory accountability provisions increase significantly, the impact could be greater than currently anticipated. If the legislation is enacted, the Fiscal Analysis Division will monitor the requests and its workload and will notify the Legislature as required.
