Explanation

(Use Additional Sheets of Attachments, if required)

BDR 43-243 categorizes certain traffic laws and ordinances as civil penalties rather than criminal violations.

The Department of Motor Vehicles has based this fiscal note on the following assumptions: (1) This bill is not intending to create any new violation codes. (2) The current demerit point system will remain intact. (3) The individual driver history record will require no change in verbiage. (4) The courts will not change the language in the conviction data sent manually or electronically to the Department of Motor Vehicles.

The agency has reviewed this BDR and determined that there is no fiscal impact.
