Explanation

(Use Additional Sheets of Attachments, if required)

If enacted, it appears the proposed legislation would have no fiscal impact on the Nevada System of Higher Education (NSHE) or its institutions.

According to the proposed legislation, the existing P-20W Advisory Council would be replaced with the P-20W Research Data System Advisory Council. The Chancellor would serve as an ex officio member of the P-20W Research Data System Advisory Committee. This will not create a fiscal impact, because the Chancellor currently serves on the P-20W Advisory Council.

Additionally, the proposed committee would responsible for the development and oversight of a statewide longitudinal data system. This data system already exists; therefore, no fiscal impact is projected for system development.
