Comment: Under current law (NRS 244.3675, 268.413), cities and counties are allowed to adopt various building codes. However, another law (NRS 444.350) requires all jurisdictions to comply with the Uniform Plumbing Code even if an exception to the code is necessitated by geographic, topographic or climatic conditions. This bill transfers the authority to make these exceptions from the state to the local jurisdictions.
