The Commission's current office location with houses the entire Commission staff has individual office space for each employee to accommodate any employee who may qualify for the accommodations made available through this measure. Further, employees are already entitled to respective rights for meal and rest periods and this measure does not mandate additional compensation for rest periods. Accordingly, this measure has no fiscal impact on the Commission.

State Agency: Business and Industry, Employee Management Relations Board

Approved by: Bruce K Snyder, EMRB Commissioner

Comment: The number of potential complaints that could be filed is unknown. However, the agency presumes that the number of complaints would be small and that almost all local governments would comply with the requirements. If this is true, then there would be no fiscal impact and the agency could handle such complaints with existing staff and in the normal course of business.

Administration of that portion of the bill subject to the jurisdiction of the EMRB would be made easier if the lists of local governments contained in the bill could instead be made the same as the definition of a local government employer found in NRS 288.060, so that the EMRB would have a consistent definition of a local government no matter the type of case filed with the agency.
