This BDR increases the penalty for a battery which constitutes domestic violence of a fourth or greater conviction, or a second conviction after a charge of battery by strangulation. The proposed law would change the penalty from a category C felony with a sentence of 1 to 5 years to a category B felony with a sentence from 2 to 15 years. It is assumed that the change to the law would increase the NDOC inmate population and/or increase the length of sentence. However the NDOC is unable to forecast the increase, if any, in the number of offenders admitted to the NDOC system at this time. As a result, the fiscal impact of this proposed law cannot be quantified at this time.
