March 21, 2017

THE HONORABLE JASON FRIERSON, SPEAKER OF THE NEVADA STATE ASSEMBLY, The Nevada Legislature, 401 South Carson Street, Carson City, NV 89701

RE: Initiative Petition No. 1 of the 79th Legislative Session

DEAR SPEAKER FRIERSON:

I am herewith forwarding to you, for filing within the constitutional time limit and without my approval, Initiative Petition No. 1, which is entitled:

AN ACT relating to elections; establishing procedures by which the Department of Motor Vehicles must, under certain circumstances, transmit certain information to register a person to vote or update a person's voter registration information; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

INTRODUCTION

Initiative Petition No. 1 ("IP1"), The Automatic Voter Registration Initiative, proposes "an amendment to the Nevada Code to provide for automatic voter registration of citizens qualified to vote when they obtain services from the Department of Motor Vehicles ("DMV"), such as applying for a driver's license." (See Attachment "A", pp. 1, 21) (emphasis added). IP1 also states "[t]hose who do not want the DMV to facilitate their voter registration may affirmatively decline this assistance." Id.

IP1 advances a worthy goal by encouraging more eligible Nevadans to register to vote. However, such a result must partner with sound policy. IP1 fails this test because it extinguishes a fundamental, individual choice—the right of eligible voters to decide for themselves whether they desire to apply to register to vote—thereby forfeiting this basic decision to state government.

Supporters of IP1 argue that the government's provision of an "opt-out" from the automatic application process substitutes for the decision by the individual to apply to register to vote. However, the core freedom of deciding whether one wishes to initiate voter registration belongs to the individual, not the government.

Moreover, if IP1 became law, it would create an unnecessary risk that people who are not qualified voters may unintentionally apply to vote, subjecting them to possible criminal prosecution, fines, and other legal action.

DISCUSSION

IP1 transforms Nevada's current registration system from an "opt-in" to an "opt-out" system, thereby compelling automatic application for voter registration for many (if not most) visitors to the Department of Motor Vehicles ("DMV"). Every DMV customer who applies for any type of driving privilege or identification card will automatically have an application for voter registration transmitted to a voter registrar or clerk, unless he or she affirmatively declines in writing.

Today, when customers request DMV forms to obtain a driver's license, instructional permit, driver authorization card, or identification card (Real ID or standard), they also receive a Nevada voter registration application. This is required pursuant to Nevada's "motor voter" law.

The application warns applicants in bold, all-caps language that providing false information is a felony that carries a civil penalty of up to $20,000. It then seeks answers to questions regarding the applicant's citizenship, age, reason for the application, and party affiliation (if any). Finally, applicants must swear or affirm under penalty of perjury that they are eligible to vote. (See Attachment "B", at 3.)

Nevada's existing "motor voter" process works; it is a good system that will improve through the recent (March 2017) adoption of a Memorandum of Understanding between the DMV and voting rights groups that makes it even easier for DMV customers to apply to register to vote—if they choose or are eligible to do so. Allowing DMV customers to voluntarily apply to register to vote while applying for driving privileges and identification cards has helped countless Nevadans. IP1 will not enhance this process.

IP1 fails to account for substantial differences between the qualifications to vote and the qualifications to obtain driving privileges or identification cards. For instance, one must be 18 years old to be eligible to vote, but one can be 16 years old to drive (and even younger to drive with an instructional permit). Non-citizens, some ex-felons and others may obtain driving privileges and identification cards, even though they cannot apply to register to vote.

To be candid, the proposed law does require the DMV to notify persons "of the qualifications to vote in this state." However, a person is "deemed to have consented" to the transmission of information unless the person "affirmatively declines in writing to apply to register to vote." Such a scenario does not protect against inadvertent application for registration and potential violation of law.

It is important to note that under Nevada law, the DMV does not determine an individual's eligibility to vote. Indeed, Nevada law prohibits DMV employees from making "any statement or [taking] any action to discourage an applicant from registering to vote." NRS 293.5045(1)(c). These same prohibitions may apply if IP1 becomes law, thus preventing DMV staff from discouraging likely ineligible individuals from applying for voter registration. Customers may, as a result, be subject to criminal prosecution simply through their inattention, misunderstanding, or ignorance of the process.

CONCLUSION

The current DMV voter registration process provides the necessary balance for voluntary and informed voter registration. IP1 upsets that balance, removing the element of allowing an individual to initiate the voter registration process, and increasing the possibility of improper registration.

Nevadans have many other opportunities to apply to register to vote outside of the DMV. Eligible voters can register by mail, online or in person at various public offices. It is also common, especially during election years, for various groups to offer voter registration at multiple locations. With all of these registration options, Nevadans have a multitude of voluntary voter registration opportunities.

Finally, I am mindful that my veto does not foreclose the debate on IP1. During the 2018 general election, Nevada voters will have the final say on compulsory application for voter registration at the Nevada DMV. The Nevada Constitution makes the people of Nevada the final arbiters of petitions, and they can, if they so choose, effectively overturn this veto at the ballot box. The decision to mandate compulsory application for voter registration by the government is better left with the public, who will be subject to its requirements.

For these reasons, I veto Initiative Petition 1.

Sincere regards,
BRIAN SANDOVAL
Governor

Sec. 9. NRS 293.1277 is hereby amended to read as follows:

293.1277 1. If the Secretary of State finds that the total number of signatures submitted to all the county clerks is 100 percent or more of the number of registered voters needed to declare the petition sufficient, the Secretary of State shall immediately so notify the county clerks. After the notification, each of the county clerks shall determine the number of registered voters who have signed the documents submitted in the county clerk's county and, in the case of a petition for initiative or referendum proposing a constitutional amendment or statewide measure, shall tally the number of signatures for each petition district contained or fully contained within the county clerk's county. This determination must be completed within 9 days, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, after the notification pursuant to this subsection regarding a petition containing signatures which are required to be verified pursuant to NRS 293.128, 295.056, 298.109, 306.035 or 306.110, and within 3 days, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, after the notification pursuant to this subsection regarding a petition containing signatures which are required to be verified pursuant to NRS 293.172 or 293.200. For the purpose of verification pursuant to this section, the county clerk shall not include in his or her tally of total signatures any signature included in the incorrect petition district.

2. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, if more than 500 names have been signed on the documents submitted to a county clerk, the county clerk shall examine the signatures by sampling them at random for verification. The random sample of signatures to be verified must be drawn in such a manner that every signature which has been submitted to the county clerk is given an equal opportunity to be included in the sample. The sample must include an examination of at least 500 or 5 percent of the signatures, whichever is greater. If documents were submitted to the county clerk for more than one petition district wholly contained within that county, a separate random sample must be performed for each petition district.

3. If a petition district comprises more than one county and the petition is for an initiative or referendum proposing a constitutional amendment or a statewide measure, and if more than 500 names have been signed on the documents submitted for that petition district, the appropriate county clerks shall examine the signatures by sampling them at random for verification. The random sample of signatures to be verified must be drawn in such a manner that every signature which has been submitted to the county clerks within the petition district is given an equal opportunity to be included in the sample. The sample must include an examination of at least 500 or 5 percent of the signatures presented in the petition district, whichever is greater. The Secretary of State shall determine the number of signatures that must be verified by each county clerk within the petition district.

4. In determining from the records of registration the number of registered voters who signed the documents, the county clerk may use the signatures contained in the file of applications to register to vote. If the county clerk uses that file, the county clerk shall ensure that every application in the file is examined, including any application in his or her possession which may not yet be entered into the county clerk's records. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 5, the county clerk shall rely only on the appearance of the signature and the address and date included with each signature in making his or her determination.

5. If:

(a) Pursuant to NRS 293.506, a county clerk establishes a system to allow persons to register to vote by computer; ~~for~~;

(b) A person registers to vote pursuant to NRS 293D.230 and signs his or her application to register to vote using a digital signature or an electronic signature ~~for~~; or

(c) A person registers to vote pursuant to section 4 of this act, the county clerk may rely on such other indicia as prescribed by the Secretary of State in making his or her determination.

6. In the case of a petition for initiative or referendum proposing a constitutional amendment or statewide measure, when the county clerk is determining the number of registered voters who signed the documents from each petition district contained fully or partially within the county clerk's county, he or she must use the statewide voter registration list available pursuant to NRS 293.675.

7. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 9, upon completing the examination, the county clerk shall immediately attach to the documents a certificate properly dated, showing the result of the examination, including the tally of signatures by petition district, if required, and transmit the documents with the certificate to the Secretary of State. In the case of a petition for initiative or referendum proposing a constitutional amendment or statewide measure, if a petition district comprises more than one county, the appropriate county clerks shall comply with the regulations adopted by the Secretary of State pursuant to this section to complete the certificate. A copy of this certificate must be filed in the clerk's office. When the county clerk transmits the certificate to the Secretary of State, the county clerk shall notify the Secretary of State of the number of requests to remove a name received by the county clerk pursuant to NRS 295.055 or 306.015.

8. A person who submits a petition to the county clerk which is required to be verified pursuant to NRS 293.128, 293.172, 293.200, 295.056, 298.109, 306.035 or 306.110 must be allowed to witness the verification of the signatures. A public officer who is the subject of a recall petition must also be allowed to witness the verification of the signatures on the petition.

9. For any petition containing signatures which are required to be verified pursuant to the provisions of NRS 293.200, 306.035 or 306.110 for any county, district or municipal office within one county, the county clerk shall not transmit to the Secretary of State the documents containing the signatures of the registered voters.

10. The Secretary of State shall by regulation establish further procedures for carrying out the provisions of this section.

*Initiative Petition – Statewide Statutory MeasureState of NevadaDESCRIPTION OF EFFECT

This initiative proposes an amendment to the Nevada Code to provide for automatic voter registration of citizens qualified to vote when they obtain services from the Department of Motor Vehicles ("DMV"), such as applying for a driver's license. The amendment will make it more convenient for qualified citizens to register and update their registration information by requiring the DMV to transmit qualified citizens' information to the Secretary of State ("Secretary") to register them to vote or update their registration information. It is designed to increase the accuracy of registration rolls by ensuring that qualified citizens who move within Nevada and update their contact information at the DMV will have their voter registration information automatically updated. The amendment directs the DMV to securely handle voter information. It also directs the Secretary and DMV to use electronic forms where possible to reduce costs and waste, and prohibits the use of information provided to the DMV to assist in voter registration services for purposes other than for voter registration. The amendment will not change voter eligibility requirements or the services provided by the DMV. Those who do not want the DMV to facilitate their voter registration may affirmatively decline this assistance.

*Initiative Petition – Statewide Statutory MeasureState of NevadaDESCRIPTION OF EFFECT

This initiative proposes an amendment to the Nevada Code to provide for automatic voter registration of citizens qualified to vote when they obtain services from the Department of Motor Vehicles (“DMV”), such as applying for a driver’s license. The amendment will make it more convenient for qualified citizens to register and update their registration information by requiring the DMV to transmit qualified citizens’ information to the Secretary of State (“Secretary”) to register them to vote or update their registration information. It is designed to increase the accuracy of registration rolls by ensuring that qualified citizens who move within Nevada and update their contact information at the DMV will have their voter registration information automatically updated. The amendment directs the DMV to securely handle voter information. It also directs the Secretary and DMV to use electronic forms where possible to reduce costs and waste, and prohibits the use of information provided to the DMV to assist it in voter registration services for purposes other than for voter registration. The amendment will not change voter eligibility requirements or the services provided by the DMV. Those who do not want the DMV to facilitate their voter registration may affirmatively decline this assistance.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

At the direction of Mr. Speaker, the following remarks were entered in the Journal:

ASSEMBLY MEDIA CLERK MICHELE BURKE:

I would like to thank the Speaker and the Chief Clerk for inviting me to talk to the members this morning. Today would have been my father's 93rd birthday. Since he is the one who taught me to love history, it is especially appropriate that I share my research on this day.

Before this building was completed in 1871, the State Legislature met on the second floor of the first Ormsby County Courthouse, which was formerly Abe Curry's Great Basin Hotel at the southwest corner of Musser and Carson Streets. The picture of that building can be found on the front cover of today's bill books. I would like to share with you about one of the members who met there.

When you enter the Nevada Legislative Building, on the wall lining the right side of the foyer are the photos of those who have held the position of Speaker of the Nevada Assembly dating back to our first State Legislature in 1864. The one exception is James A. Banks, who was the Speaker of the Assembly in 1866, our Second Legislative Session. He is represented by a framed silhouette. As soon as I noticed this, I began researching, trying to find a picture to fill that frame. I quickly found a picture of his father, as well as one of his brother. The more I searched for his picture, the more I became caught up in his remarkable achievements.

James Andrew Banks was born in Fermanagh Township, Juniata County, Pennsylvania, on January 17, 1828. He was the oldest son of David and Jane McAllister Banks, who were affluent estate owners. His maternal grandfather went from camp to camp to help George Washington rally the disheartened troops in the Revolutionary War. Two of his brothers became doctors, one a lawyer, and the youngest remained to help his father run the estate. With a desire to make his own way in the world, Mr. Banks left home at the age of 21, and after living for short periods in various places teaching school or working at carpentering, he caught gold fever and headed for California. An early California newspaper reported:

The excitement which followed the discovery of gold in California found him among the early immigrants to these shores. Upon landing here he engaged in business at his trade which he followed for several years until he won the confidence not only of his fellow mechanics but of his fellow citizens.

From 1848 to 1849, the San Francisco population went from 1,000 to 25,000 and continued to grow rapidly throughout the 1850s. Recognizing a need among his fellow tradesmen, in 1854 Mr. Banks helped to found the Mechanics Institute of San Francisco to serve the educational and social needs of mechanics, artisans, craftsmen, and inventors and their families. While not still solely dedicated to mechanical arts, this institute is still in existence today. For this achievement: no pictures of our Mr. Banks.

While in San Francisco, he continued membership in the Presbyterian Church and was elected president of the Young Men's Christian Association [YMCA] in 1858. Accounts of the time report that during his tenure he did much to bring the society to notice and put the group on firm financial ground. None of the accounts have a picture of Mr. Banks.

Mr. Banks was elected a member of the [California] State Legislature ... in which he distinguished himself by a strict adherence to the interest of his constituents and the honest discharge of his duty.

While in the California Legislature he was known as a strong advocate of education and helped draft legislation establishing a California university. A great story of his dedication to his job can be found in the legislative report from The Sacramento Daily Union, April 27, 1861.

After a particularly heated debate during a floor session over an appropriation for the Reform School,
 “. . . some expressions were used in consequence of which a member was ordered under arrest by the chair.”

Some witness accounts say that Mr. Banks had stopped at the Chief Clerk’s desk at the end of the floor session and was intently studying something when Mr. Hahn came from behind and struck him severely over the head with his cane. This account was countered with the argument that the bruising on Mr. Banks’ forehead clearly demonstrated the blow was leveled from the front when he was in deep concentration and did not see it coming. While Mr. Banks’ supporters called for Mr. Hahn’s expulsion from the Assembly, they were overridden, citing precedence of a similar occurrence in the United States Congress which resulted in all charges dropped.

After serving four sessions in the California Assembly and one in the California Senate, still no picture of Mr. Banks.

Shortly after this incident Mr. Banks left California, joining friends’ mining ventures in Paradise Valley, Humboldt County, Nevada.

He was elected to be a delegate for Nevada’s Second Constitutional Convention in 1864. Delegates ranged in age from 26 to 64. Three were foreign born, 11 were lawyers, 33 had come to Nevada from California, and all but one were registered as Unionists. The president of the convention was J. Neely Johnson, a former Governor of California and future justice of the Nevada Supreme Court. The 1863 Constitution which was turned down by voters provided for taxation of mines and mining claims, whether producing or not. Mr. Banks, who was a mine superintendent in Humboldt County, helped write the change in the 1864 document which specified that only the proceeds of mines and claims could be taxed. With the modifications, the proposed constitution passed, was sent by telegraph to Washington D.C., and President Lincoln declared Nevada a state on October 31.

Mr. Banks returned to his mining career in Humboldt County and was highly regarded in his field. He was known as a young man of irreproachable character, great industry and full of enthusiasm. There was a large influx of settlers into the region, and the Native American population who at first had been tolerant of the newcomers was beginning to fight against the widespread takeover of their lands. Mr. Banks wrote letters to the Governor highly critical of how the military was handling the situation. He felt they were escalating the situation rather than calming it down. His constant advocacy on behalf of the citizens of Humboldt County gained him the reputation as a leader, and he was elected to represent them in the Second Session of the Nevada Legislature, where he was elected Speaker.

The June 1866 edition of the Harrisburg Telegraph, a newspaper from his home state, reported that Mr. Banks was going to run against James Nye for the United States Senate. This was a dream that never was given a chance.

In August of 1867, Mr. Banks met some friends who were staying at Camp Winfield Scott, the camp of whose commander he had been so critical in letters to the Governor. The Marysville Daily Appeal reported:

Banks and two others were fishing about one mile from Camp Winfield Scott. Banks started up the creek and as he did not return search was made for him. He was found about three hundred yards above the fishing grounds, with a bullet hole through his breast and his bowels cut out.

His body was taken back to camp and buried in the cemetery there.

Marysville Daily Appeal September 1867:

The Sacramento Union of August 31 contains a series of resolutions adopted by the citizens of Unionville, Humboldt County, Nevada calling upon the civil and military authorities . . . to avenge the death of James A. Banks who it is said was shot by an Indian . . . There is the possibility that James A. Banks was not shot by an Indian, as it is quite common for robberies and murders to be committed by white savages dressed as Indians for which Indians have been butchered wholesale . . .

Who actually killed Mr. Banks was never determined or further investigated. In 1869 the Young Men's Christian Association took his body back to San Francisco, buried him in the Masonic Cemetery, where they erected a monument to honor him. At his funeral his dear friend, Judge Sawyer said, "In the workshop he was a gentleman, in the parlor a companion and in the legislative halls he was more than a politician."

The story of Mr. Banks was not quite over. In 1901, the growing city of San Francisco needed more land. The City passed an ordinance outlawing cemeteries inside city limits, and the bodies from the Masonic Cemetery were moved to cemeteries in Colma, California. The tombstones and monuments were ground up and used as fill on the approaches of the Golden Gate Bridge.

James Andrew Banks was 39 years old when he died. For all of his accomplishments, we have yet to locate a portrait of him, but I hope from my story today you will have a better picture of who he was.
