AN ACT relating to crimes; revising the length of the term of the additional penalty for crimes committed with the use of a deadly weapon or tear gas; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law provides that a person who uses a firearm or other deadly weapon or a weapon containing or capable of emitting tear gas in the commission of a crime must be punished by the imposition of an additional penalty which must be a minimum term of not less than 1 year and a maximum term of not more than 20 years, except that the additional term of imprisonment must not exceed the sentence imposed for the underlying crime. When the court determines the length of the additional punishment to be imposed, existing law requires a court to consider certain factors and state on the record that the court considered those factors. (NRS 193.165) Section 1 of this bill provides that the additional penalty imposed: (1) is no longer subject to judicial determination; and (2) must be equal to and in addition to the term of imprisonment for the underlying crime.
