Legislative Counsel’s Digest:

1 Existing law requires a court to seal all records of a conviction upon entry of a certificate
2 of innocence, if a person is successful in a wrongful conviction action. (NRS 41.910) Section
3 1 of this bill exempts records of a conviction maintained by the parties concerning a civil 4 action for wrongful conviction from this requirement. Section 1 also specifies that such 5 records maintained by the parties must remain confidential.
6 Under existing law, the State waives its immunity from liability in civil actions brought 7 for a wrongful conviction and consents to have its liability determined in accordance with the 8 rules of law governing civil actions against natural persons and corporations. (NRS 41.920)
9 Existing law authorizes a party in a civil action to serve an offer of judgment upon another
10 party prior to trial and subjects the offeree to certain penalties if the offeree rejects the offer
11 and fails to obtain a more favorable judgment at trial. (NRS 17.117) Existing law also 12 provides that a judgment draws interest from the time of service of the summons and 13 complaint until the judgment is satisfied. (NRS 17.130) Section 2 of this bill exempts the 14 State from the requirements of the provisions governing offers of judgment in civil actions
15 brought for a wrongful conviction. Section 2 also exempts a judgment for a wrongful
16 conviction from provisions governing interest on judgments.

Existing law requires a court to award a person who has obtained a certificate of innocence in a wrongful conviction action a certain amount of monetary compensation for each year of imprisonment. (NRS 41.950) Section 3 of this bill establishes that the period of time used to calculate an award of monetary compensation begins on the date the person was wrongfully convicted and imprisoned and ends on the date the wrongful conviction was reversed or the person was released from prison, whichever is earlier. Existing law authorizes a court to award such a person payment for certain items, including, without limitation, payment for tuition, health care and counseling services. (NRS 41.950) Section 3 prohibits a court from awarding payment for such items: (1) in an amount greater than $100,000 per calendar year; and (2) for a length of time that exceeds the period of time the person was imprisoned or on parole. Section 3 also establishes certain additional limitations applicable to such items.

Existing law limits an award of monetary compensation for a person who has obtained a certificate of innocence in an action for wrongful conviction and who has previously obtained an award or settlement from the State for the wrongful conviction to the amount provided in NRS 41.950, less the amount previously obtained. (NRS 41.960) Section 4 of this bill expands the applicability of this limitation to awards and settlements for the wrongful conviction obtained from this State or any other governmental entity. Existing law requires a person who was successful in his or her action against the State for a wrongful conviction pursuant to NRS 41.900, and who subsequently obtains an award or settlement for the wrongful conviction that exceeds the amount previously obtained, to reimburse the State for the amount previously obtained. (NRS 41.960) Section 4 additionally: (1) expands the application of this requirement to compensation received from the State whether through an award of damages or a settlement; (2) requires such a person to notify the State Board of Examiners of the subsequent award of damages or settlement not later than 4 months after the date of the subsequent award of damages or settlement; (3) requires such a person to reimburse the State not later than 6 months after the date of the subsequent award of damages or settlement; and (4) authorizes a court to order the termination of any future payment for certain items, including, without limitation, payment for tuition, health care and counseling services, if such a person does not so notify the State Board of Examiners or reimburse the State. Section 4 also exempts awards for certain items including, without limitation, payment for tuition, health care and counseling services from the calculation of the amount of an award or settlement for the purposes of limiting an award or requiring an award to be reimbursed.

Existing law requires a person who was successful in his or her action for a wrongful conviction to submit a claim to the State Board of Examiners. (NRS 41.900, 41.970) Section 4.5 of this bill specifies that payment does not become effective without the prior approval of the State Board of Examiners.
