EXPLANATION – Matter in bolded italics is new; matter between brackets ~~omitted material~~ is material to be omitted.

AN ACT relating to health care; establishing the substantive rights of a person compelled to submit to a mental or physical examination under certain circumstances; authorizing a person who has been aggrieved by the violation of certain rights to institute an action for injunctive and other appropriate relief; repealing provisions relating to a mental or physical examination required of certain persons in a civil action; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law authorizes an observer to be present at a mental or physical examination ordered by a court for the purpose of discovery in a civil action. The observer may: (1) be an attorney for the person undergoing the examination; and (2) make an audio or stenographic recording of the examination. (NRS 52.380) In 2021, the Nevada Supreme Court held that such a statute is unconstitutional because it: (1) is a procedural statute that does not create a substantive right; and (2) attempts to abrogate an existing rule of procedure that the court “prescribed under its inherent authority to regulate the judicial process.” (Lyft, Inc. v. Eighth Jud. Dist. Court, 137 Nev. Adv. Op. 86, 501 P.3d 994, 1002 (2021); N.R.C.P. 35) Section 2 of this bill repeals this statute.

Section 1 of this bill provides that with certain exceptions, a person compelled to submit to a mental or physical examination pursuant to a court order, a contractual obligation or any other type of obligation has the right to: (1) receive notice of the examination at least 21 days before the date of the examination; (2) have an interpreter and certain observers present throughout the examination; (3) take notes or appoint an observer to take notes during the examination; and (4) after providing notice to the person conducting the examination, make certain recordings of the examination. Section 1 further provides that the testimony or reports of the person conducting the examination are not privileged communications. Section 1 authorizes a person compelled to submit to a mental or physical examination to bring an action against a person who has violated the rights established by section 1 and to obtain certain remedies in that action, including: (1) attorney’s fees; (2) actual damages or a fine of $1,500, whichever is greater; (3) injunctive and protective relief; and (4) an order prohibiting the use of any information gathered during the examination in any judicial or administrative proceeding.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 629 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

(c) Have an interpreter present if the person believes that an interpreter is necessary to facilitate communication with the examiner;

(d) Take notes or appoint an observer to take notes during the examination; and

5. As used in this section, "mental or physical examination" does not include any evaluation made with respect to a child custody proceeding, as defined in NRS 125A.055.
